Causes of Teeth Related Problems

Teeth-related problems and corrosion of the teeth are generally caused by unhealthy eating habits like consumption of staining products and beverages like tea, coffee, tobacco, nicotine, fizzy drinks, etc. These stains become permanent after a period of time.

This problem can be reduced or prevented by keeping a count on the times and quantity of the above-mentioned food items you consume in a day. However, by doing this you cannot undo the damage already done. For that, you need to consult a good Cosmetic Teeth Whitening dentist. However, this is capable of removing even the most stubborn stains! This treatment not only breaks down these stains and yellow layer on your teeth enamel but also lightens your teeth' color to at least 4-5 shades lighter than before!

Treatment of Zoom Teeth Whitening

This treatment is one of the most effective, quickest, and long-lasting methods of getting the pearly best teeth whitening set. This process is lab-tested and declared safe and harmless for our teeth and mouth.

The process starts with the dentist safely covering your gums and lips with a protective shield or tray. He then uses a Carbamide gel and spreads it generously over your exposed teeth. This gel contains an active bleaching agent, generally a compound of peroxide. The dentist then uses a laser beam on the teeth, which helps activate the bleaching agent in the gel. This then removes all the stains and lightens your teeth to an amazing 4-5 shade than before. This treatment is safe, effective and its results can easily last for around six months.
