

DENTAL VENEERS: HOW TO MAINTAIN AN EVERGREEN SMILE?

Your cosmetic dental clinic will offer a wide variety of cosmetic dental procedures including veneers. Veneers are great for fixing problems with the enhanced appearance of your teeth and can also provide a layer of protection for a tooth that has been damaged or cracked. Dental veneers have become popular over the past few years and are a great alternative to more invasive methods of improving your smile.

Dental Veneers Houston are made out of two different types of materials.

Porcelain Veneers:

Porcelain Teeth Veneers are the type of veneers that offer the appearance like a natural tooth. They are less likely to stain and are a little bit thicker so they do require removal of a bit more of the tooth enamel that they will be covering.

Porcelain Veneers for an Instant Smile Makeover:

There are many motives you and your dentist near me might also additionally pick out Cosmetic Porcelain Veneers, however, when you have any of the subsequent dental problems, you can discover them in particular helpful:

- Dull or stained enamel is normally the cause because of smoking
- Crowded or crooked enamel that makes your smile not yours anymore

- A diastema (gap) among you're the front enamel
- Misshapen Teeth that are too small or too big.
- Chipped or damaged enamel.

Rather than spending years with dental braces and a couple of appointments for dental bonding, teeth whitening, and different beauty procedures, the best dentist near me can restructure your smile with Porcelain Dental Veneers at the dentist's office near me.

Composite resin veneers:

The other type of Veneers Houston is composite resin veneers. This type of veneer is thinner than the porcelain veneers and does not require the removal of as much of the teeth that they are applied to. Composite resin veneers do look like a natural tooth but not quite as much as the porcelain veneers.

Steps in getting your new smile with porcelain veneers:

- When you have decided to have veneers applied to your teeth, you will need to make a few visits to the cosmetic dentist at our office. The first visit will consist of a consultation where you will discuss exactly what you are expecting to see after the veneers are applied to ensure that the veneers will be able to accomplish exactly what you want the results to be.
- When you arrive at your dentist's office for your second visit, the dentist will take an impression of your teeth that the veneers are to be applied to. Since veneers are custom made for each individual it is important to have the impression of the teeth so the fit will be perfect once it comes time to apply them. The enamel on your teeth is shaved down to make room for the veneers to be applied on your next visit. Temporary veneers can be applied at this point to protect the teeth since some of the enamel of the teeth has been removed.

- The last visit for your veneers at your cosmetic dentist clinic will consist of the dentist fitting and applying your new veneers to your existing teeth. In the process, any final shaping that may be needed can be done and if the color isn't just right, it can be adjusted. After this visit, your new smile is complete and you will look just absolutely wonderful.

With dental veneers, you will be able to get an evergreen smile.
