

Cat Proof Fences & Enclosed Gardens:

Cat fences are designed to give your cat free access of your garden (or a section of garden), without the use of a cat run or enclosure. The benefits of this are your garden remains for the most part unaltered.

The picture below shows how netting has been put at the top of the fence to stop the cats climbing it & escaping. This has enabled Marianna to give her cats access to the garden, without the use of a cat enclosure. All the work on the garden, play areas & stud house was done by Marianna & her husband.

This enclosed garden was custom designed & built by Rosanne & her husband for their cat Fast Eddie to enjoy the great outdoors while Roseanne & her partner could continue to use and enjoy their garden & outdoor living/entertaining to the fullest.

The following images have been supplied by Beth. They show her cat proofed yard. They placed Select plants that won't support the weight of a cat and plant larger plants away from the wall.

Running along the top of the brick wall is a metal sheet capping (Colourbond) that hangs over the edge so to stop cats from gaining a grip on the metal sheeting or footing on the brick wall. Clear polycarbonate sheets cover the timber slats.
