

Build this Plant Stand

Shown here is a plant stand which may be built from either walnut or mahogany lumber, making an attractive piece of furniture for your window corner. The plant stand shown above is made entirely of lathe turnings with the exception of the legs and the top brackets. The various parts are assembled with dowels and glue as shown in the drawing on the right.

