

Summary.

Students took part in a reading workshop, the main character of which was a tree, exactly a fruit tree Mirabelle. They worked with the text of the book, learned about the history of the tree from its "birth" to the end of its existence. The tree, which was the narrator of the book, introduced the children to the difficult subject of war, separation, loss or love and friendship. The workshop brought the children closer to the difficult subject of the time of war, occupation but in a very sensitive way. They also learned about the life cycle of both the tree and the people of Warsaw there.
