

Fight poaching like a punching ball

We are going to defend the protection of the protect species. The causes of poaching are different depending on the species. For example, elephants are coveted for their ivory because it is expensive.

The risks of poaching are the extinction of a lot of species like elephants or rhinoceroses.

The solutions against poaching are a better supervision of the protected species and stopping the production of clothing or accessories with the skins of crocodiles or other species.

We are going to take legal action against all the luxury brands who use crocodile or the fur of different animals.
