

3 Cutting-edge education

Stanford University and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) are ranked #1 and #4 by the 2018 Times Higher Education World University Rankings for technology.

“ I’m studying chemical engineering because I want to solve some of the problems the world is going to face in the next 100 years. I was really interested in biomedical problems. But the more I learn, the more I realize that there are so many fields I could help in: renewable energy, clean and sustainable manufacturing, food production, even science policy.”

Camila Hayashi, 19 – MIT

“ I like how MIT is committed to addressing the world’s most pressing issues.”

Sheela, 20 – MIT

“ Empathy, creativity, and curiosity fuel me. I am a change-maker, and designer. I believe in equity and am passionate about human rights.”

Ana Maria Tarano, 19 – Stanford University

“ Everyone at Stanford Engineering is part of something bigger than themselves. They’re here to learn something and then go out and change the world.”

Tim, 18 – Stanford University
