

TO BE AND HAVE GOT

Write the affirmative form of the verb to be or have got.

- I have got two little sisters.
- She has got a cat.
- Tina is a nice girl.
- Mike has got a blue notebook.
- They are my friends.
- You have got long hair.
- Sally and you are in my class.
- We have got blue eyes.
- I am happy.
- He has got small ears.
- You are tall.
- My cat is funny.
- The boys have got green bikes.
- We are good students.
- Polly and Emma have got new toys.
- Sue's jacket is white.
- Kate and I are ten years old.
- My dog has got a bone.
- My mother has got a purple dress.
- The baby is small.
- Jenny's uncle has got two big dogs.
- She has got a yellow pencil case.
- Steve and you are in the same class.
- It is a present.
- Annie's book is red.
- The girl has got a brown skirt.
- They have got two children.
- My grandpa has got white hair.
- My cousins are eleven years old.

Write the negative form of the verb to be or have got.

- Emily isn't tall.
- I haven't got green shoes.
- You haven't got a parrot.
- He hasn't got a younger sister.
- Sam and Ben aren't cousins.
- They haven't got red schoolbags.
- We aren't thirteen years old.
- John and you haven't got purple pens.
- It isn't a drum.
- The flute isn't yellow.
- She hasn't got green eyes.
- I 'm not Julie's cousin.
- We haven't got short hair.
- Betty's aunt hasn't got a cat.
- They aren't in the classroom.
- Natalie and I aren't fifteen.
- My book isn't orange.
- You aren't my brother.
- It isn't a watch.
- She hasn't got a computer.
- He isn't sad.
- I haven't got an orange jacket.
- My dad hasn't got a black car.
- Sally's rubber isn't pink.
- His hair isn't brown.

Write the missing words: to be or have got?

Tilly is my dog. She has got a short white body and four white legs. Her tail is black. She has got a black nose and black ears. Her eyes are brown. She is a nice dog.

Spike is my dog. He has got a long black body and four brown legs. His tail is black. He has got a black nose and brown eyes. His ears are brown. He is my best friend.

Fluffy is my cat. He has got a short grey body and four grey legs. His tail is black. He has got a black nose and black eyes. His ears are brown. He is a funny cat.