Banff National Park

Banff National Park is Canada's first and largest national park. The park is famous for its amazing scenery. However, beware of wild animals: black bears, grizzly bears, mousses and wolfs!!

The Banff National Park is a dangerous place with its vast forests, high cliffs and mountains, frequent avalanches and extreme temperatures below 30° celsius.

Good to know: national parks are countryside areas that are protected by the state. They help preserve wildlife and nature.

True or false: cross out the wrong statement:

cross out = barré (~~barré~~)

1. Banff National Park is one of the biggest national parks in Canada.
2. The park will take your breath away, because it is so beautiful and mind-blowing.
3. It is always hot in the national park.
4. 'scenery' is a synonym of 'landscape'.

Lacrosse

Lacrosse was known as Canada's only official national sport from 1859 to 1994. And, by the turn of the 20th century, it was the most dominant sport in the country.

Lacrosse was first played by the Canadian indigenous people. The Algonquin people named Lacrosse: Baggataway, while the Iroquois Nation called it Tewaarathon. The natives played the game for their Creator, as it was a way for them to show their gratitude to the Great Spirit.

Nowadays, lacrosse is officially the national summer sport and hockey the national winter sport.

True or false: cross out the wrong statement:

1. Lacrosse was the most famous sport in Canada. But it isn't anymore.
2. Lacrosse was invented by Canadians.
3. Hockey is another famous national sport.
