

New Chapter - Who are they?

Consigne : lis chaque texte et relis-les au personnage correspondant. Identifie le nouveau point de grammaire. Que signifie-t-il et à quoi sert-il ?

Oh, let me see... He wears a bowler hat and long shoes; he has a walking stick... I think that he's an actor. He must be Charlie Chaplin!

A sword and a pistol, a large hat and probably leather boots... This character must be a pirate. I hate pirates. They are awful and violent. This one might be Black Beard.

I know him! He is recognizable with his long nose, his short chin and his big belly. He must be Alfred Hitchcock.

This one is funny with his cap and his pipe! I believe he is a detective... He might be Sherlock Holmes, Arthur Conan Doyle's famous character.

This silhouette is on its toes, he's got long hair... Is it a woman? No, it may be the King of Pop.

This young person is flying! I think the feather on his hat is cute. He may be one of Walt Disney's most famous character.

The helmet that he wears is scary, but this man is impressive. I'm fond of his cape! He might come from the dark side of the force...
