A Day in NYC

New York City: It's Brooklyn and Queens, the Bronx, Staten Island and Manhattan in between. The Big Apple. Gotham. The City that never sleeps. Come with me on a journey through its avenues and streets.

We're spending the day in New York City. Climbing to the top of the Statue of Liberty, taking the ferry back to Manhattan. We're downtown, walking around. There's so much happening! Let's buy MetroCards and take the subway. Let's go to midtown to catch a Broadway play.

Let's check out the lights and colors in Times Square. It's noisy but it's thrilling. There are people everywhere! It's lunchtime. We're in Central Park, grabbing a bite. Now let's jump in a cab so we can see more sights. We'll have just enough time to visit the Met before we head to the Brooklyn Bridge and cross the river at sunset.

New York City: It's Brooklyn and Queens, the Bronx, Staten Island and Manhattan in between. New York is crowded, dynamic, sometimes over-the-top. Exciting or overwhelming, the action's non-stop.
