

shops - Jim Crow Laws - southern states - were separated- schools - were given -

From the 1870s through the 1950s, the enforced the legal principle of "separate but equals" in the United States of America.

That's why black people were segregated: they from white people in public facilities, and transportation. Blacks less opportunities, inferior facilities and had only access to underfunded and libraries.

This was particularly true in the

shops - Jim Crow Laws - southern states - were separated- schools - were given -

From the 1870s through the 1950s, the enforced the legal principle of "separate but equals" in the United States of America.

That's why black people were segregated: they from white people in public facilities, and transportation. Blacks less opportunities, inferior facilities and had only access to underfunded and libraries.

This was particularly true in the shops - Jim Crow Laws - southern states - were separated- schools - were given -

From the 1870s through the 1950s, the enforced the legal principle of "separate but equals" in the United States of America.

That's why black people were segregated: they from white people in public facilities, and transportation. Blacks less opportunities, inferior facilities and had only access to underfunded and libraries.

This was particularly true in the