

A villain is the opposite of a hero. There are many villains, but they are not all identical. Let's have a look at three different types: the Dark Lord, the Mastermind, and the Bully.

First, the Dark Lord: The Dark Lord is a sinister, terrifying character. He's always the leader of a group. He is often quite old and has a powerful position: he can be a king, a general or a warlord.

Second, the Mastermind: Masterminds are extremely clever. They prepare complicated plans and anticipate everything. They are not very strong and they are often solitary. They don't like fighting, so they prefer tricking their enemy. They are very secretive and can be very cruel too.

Third, the Bully: Bullies are often popular or commanding characters. They love ruling and deciding. They can be mean, jealous and sometimes cowards. They want to humiliate the hero.
