

Full hemage fanpo story

By: Diaksa

So once upon a time there was a city called Tyur City where a person called Hemale Fanpo lived. He had a brother called Sanio Fanpo and their father Huiola Fanpo is fast as a cheetah. They lived in a big house and they were not that rich and not that poor because their dad always participated in running competitions and was a scientist. Tyur City was ruled by President Wardian. He had been president for 3 years. The villain Iretu Smia was in his invisible base outside Tyur City with Maki Entra, Aren Huyenia, and his brother Uionani Smia.

One day Hemale, Sanio and Huiola Fanpo were going to a restaurant to eat dinner. Then they saw Maki Entra, and Sanio wanted to follow him. So Sanio had a switch that could turn him invisible for 5 minutes. So he activated the switch and then he followed Maki Entra. While he was invisible Sanio carefully pulled out a paper from Maki Entra's pocket and he brought it to the HQ of Advancements. There, Huiola looked at it and said: "These are blueprints for a robotic allosaurus". Then Hemale said: "Maybe Iretu is up to something, we should prepare and tell President Wardian". Then they heard a sound as loud as a jet plane and they went to see what was happening. Then they saw Iretu in a giant allosaurus robot then Hemale remembers that his super power is that his punches were as strong as 1000 men and that because of that they send shockwaves and punches toward Iretu's robot but it does only a little bit of damage.

Then the battle begins then Maki Entra fights Sanio then Sanio flicked his switch so he became invisible. Meanwhile Hemale and Huiola were thinking how could they stop the giant robot but they could not figure it out. Meanwhile Loretu was destroying the city and President Wardian's soldiers were trying to stop him. President Wardian was there too with his sword. Uionani was with Loretu and Aren Huyenia. Then Uionani and Aren Huyenia went to fight Hemale and Huiola. Huiola punches Aren which knocked him out and Uionani is fighting Hemale so Uionani could not see his punches so he also went down like a sack of potatoes. So they retreated to the HQ of Advancements then they brainstorm to think of how to defeat the robot.

Sanio is still fighting Maki Entra but Maki entra said: Wait, I want to help now". Sanio asks why he should trust him because he knows that Maki can be as sly as a fox, and Maki says:"I did not want Loretu to destroy the city". Sanio says: "You have one chance". Sanio brings Maki Entra to The HQ of advancements. Maki Entra says that the core of the robot is under the belly, and nearly impossible to get to. "So how do we get there?" asks Hemale. Huiola suggests to build a tank with a big cannon that shoots exploding bombs. He had been developing this for some time. So they build it.

The plan is that Hamage will distract Ioretu by attacking the robot, and Maki, Huiola, and Sanio will take it out. So Hamage locates the robot, and he distracts it by doing a silly dance. He dodges all the attacks like it is nothing and waits for the tank to get in position. However, Aren and Uionani find Hamage and start attacking him. Just as Hamage is about to be overwhelmed, the robot explodes. Hamage takes on Aren, Uionani and Ioretu, but this time Hamage charges his skill. Now if Hamage kicks he sends a shock wave boomerang. Stronger than before he beat them all and saved the city.

The End
