

PARDON MY FRENCH

Cut all the pieces, find the corresponding « numbers » on the Bayeux Tapestry and rearrange them in the right order.

In France, Harold helps William fight his enemy, the duke of Brittany.

N°__

Then a Latin inscription reads: here king Harold is killed; and the English army flee...

N°__

This man with a beard is Edward the Confessor, king of England. He is pointing to Harold Godwinson, a powerful Anglo-Saxon earl.

N°__

The English nobles select Harold to succeed Edward to the throne.

N°__

A little further on, the tapestry depicts Harold swearing loyalty to William on some holy relics, appearing to confirm that William will inherit the English throne.

N°__

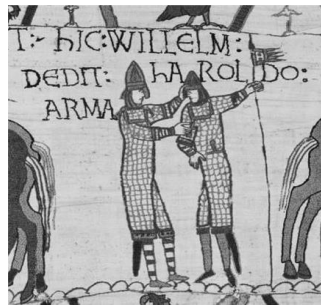

Edward has no children and appears to designate William, Duke of Normandy, as his heir.

N°__

Learning that Harold has betrayed his oath, William assembles a powerful fleet and crosses the channel.

N°__

It is a victorious expedition and the two brothers in arms return triumphant.

N°__

The two armies meet. The battle is bloody and merciless.

N°__

But everything is about to change... Harold returns to England where the ailing king Edward dies.

N°__

Edward sends Harold to Normandy.

N°__

He and his men set up camp near Hastings.

N°__