

CHANGING TIMES

1 Read the text:

The Victorian Era was the period of Queen's Victoria's reign, from 1837 until her death in 1901. We only have paintings of her coronation at the age of 18 because the first photographs would only be taken a year later.

And even though the first railway line was opened prior to her coronation, she took the train for the first time five years after this major event. She sent the first Christmas card ever a year after that. Her husband Prince Albert and she organised the first Great Exhibition in 1851. Unfortunately, he died 10 years later from typhoid fever... She mourned him by wearing black for the remaining 40 years of her life. Queen Victoria became Empress of India in May 1876. The Fabulous ballroom in Buckingham Palace was the first room to have electricity installed in it, only four years after it was first introduced. She died in 1901 at the age of 81.

2 Fill in the grid:

Date: Event: 	Date: Event:
Date: Event: 	Date: Event:
Date: Event: 	Date: Event:
Date: Event: 	Date: Event:
Date: Event: 	Date: Event:

THE LAST MOMENTS OF H.R.H. THE PRINCE CONSORT.

Published at Summerly's Home Treasury Office, 12, Old Bond Street, London. From

THE GREAT EXHIBITION POLKA,

1851,

FOR THE Piano Forte,

COMPOSED & DEDICATED TO

HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS PRINCE ALBERT,

BY

FRANK B. TUSSAUD.

ENT. STR. HALL

LONDON, DUFF & HODGSON, 65, OXFORD ST.

PRINTED IN COLORS BY TOWNSEND & GILSON, 7, POLAND ST.

16.2/6.

