What are the essential baby accessories for twins?

The essential Twin Baby Accessories may include

- Cot

A cot should be on your list of Twin Stuff you need for newborn twins because your babies will spend a lot of time napping. Instead of purchasing two cots, seek twin-friendly integrated cots. They come in a variety of shapes and sizes, including L-shaped and side-by-side cots. If none are available, get a large cot and use a cot divider to divide it.

- Diapers

Diapers are one of the most important things your twins need. Lots of them! You should always keep a supply of diapers on hand because babies soil them frequently. Purchase both disposable and reusable diapers. Remember to acquire a separate bucket for each twin to put their dirty clothes in. Baby wipes and diapering supplies like diaper rash lotion are also essential.

- Strollers

Another important item that your twins may need is a stroller. It is quite difficult to carry your twins when you are all by yourself. A stroller can make things easier for you. You can get a side-by-side stroller, where they're placed next to each other. Or you can get a tandem model where you can place babies one behind each other.

- Baby Monitor

Baby monitors allow you to check in on your twins without entering the room. A baby monitor can monitor the babies, breathing of your twins, room temperature, and you can also use it to soothe them using lullabies of your voice. Some parents choose to buy two monitors with two cameras. Some parents choose to buy a baby monitor with two cameras while others get one monitor and view both the cribs at once.

- Two safe bouncer seats

These seats can serve many purposes. They are the perfect place to bottle feed your twins. Babies love to be held but holding a baby, especially twins for hours can often be impossible. Just place your twins into these bouncer chairs, strap them in and gently rock them with your feet.
