Categories of Twins Baby Gea

Stroller & Car Seat

If you visit a doctor for advice, they will recommend switching to the stroller seat in a reclined position till the baby can support its head on its own, which an average child can do in three months. Then you can switch to fully upright in the stroller seat when your baby can sit independently, typically between five and eight months.

Baby Crib and Accessories

You can select and put your twins to sleep in a single cot while they're very small enough. This is called co-bedding, and it is perfectly safe with all standards. It can help them manage easily, and they can regulate their body temperature and sleep cycles. This is very soothing with your twins.

Breast Feeding

When you consider how often you should breastfeed, daily and night for months, it's not surprising to hear that not having proper support leads to wrist and hand injuries and long-term shoulder and back pain. And with two, you need something that can support the child while breastfeeding. It's worth setting up and selecting what is suitable for your twins.

Baby Carrier

You can carry your children and siblings who are very same in age. You can also use two carriers or a single wrap in tandem babywearing. If you use two pages, you can use two wraps or two carriers and a single wrap; it's entirely your choice.

If using two carriers, you can use two wraps, two structured carriers, or a wrap and a structured carrier.

Twins Bassinet

According to studies, you shouldn't share the same bed with your twins because it increases the chance of SIDS. But you should live in that same room for at least the first six months.
